Bulldog Family,

On Monday evening, our elementary school sustained significant damage in an extreme weather event impacting our area. The high winds caused heavy damage to the roof and walls in the 4th and 5th Grade hallway, and several classrooms in that wing sustained significant damage to their ceilings. Given the extent of the damage, our insurance provider is completing a thorough review of the facility to ensure the building is safe before we return to in-person learning on this campus. Inspection of the Middle School and High School campuses revealed no damage. Safety is our highest priority, and so we ask for your patience while we work to repair storm damage at Dixon Elementary and return to more normal operations. Again, we express our gratitude to our devoted staff, Dixon Fire Department, and Gascosage Electric Cooperative for responding so quickly and helping us manage this process safely.

Sincerely,

Travis Bohrer
Superintendent

Update

Bulldog Family,

Today we received encouraging news. As previously mentioned, our insurance company requires a thorough review of the damage at the Elementary School. One component of this work involves testing for environmental contaminants, including asbestos. I'm happy to report the results are negative for the environmental hazards for which they tested. This result means we are beginning clean-up and mobilization of impacted classrooms with all haste. We know the closure of this building is an inconvenience to our school community, but our staff is working diligently to prepare the building for a return to in-person learning. Thank you for your continued patience and we will update again as conditions change!

Sincerely,

Travis Bohrer
